

Intellectual Property

New York Pedigree with Minnesota Attitude.

You have come up with something truly innovative. Now you need to get down to the business of protecting it. FMJ's intellectual property attorneys assist clients with trademark and copyright registration and compliance, trademark and copyright licensing, dispute resolution and pre-dispute counseling. They have also worked with internet law and domain name issues as well as trade secret strategies and issues.

Our IP experts will help you keep the brilliance of your concept your own.

Intellectual Property Litigation:

FMJ's intellectual property litigation experts have represented clients involved in patent, trademark, copyright, unfair competition and related claims. They have obtained extraordinary relief for our clients including temporary restraining orders and preliminary injunctions, which are sometimes necessary for clients facing an immediate intellectual property threat. FMJ has obtained monetary relief from defendants in amounts that may have deterred others from infringing upon our clients' intellectual property.

As our clients can attest, FMJ has the experience, depth and capacity to handle complex litigation involving extensive review and depositions. Our significant trial experience nationwide in both federal and state courts can provide you with the comfort of knowing that your legal counsel can present complex, technical matters to a jury to produce just results.
