

Products Liability

Expansive Product Knowledge. Sophisticated Attorneys.

Product liability litigation involves high-stakes claims that can jeopardize an entire company if not handled correctly. This is precisely why it is important to engage sophisticated, knowledgeable, and veteran trial attorneys to handle these types of claims. The FMJ Products Liability group has served as regional and national counsel to multi-level international Fortune 500 companies in 30 states for over 40 years.

FMJ has represented these companies in various product liability matters, including preparation of warnings, execution of recalls, personal injury litigation, and wrongful death cases. Our litigation team works closely with engineers and risk managers – before, during, and after litigation. We represent product manufacturers in regard to a variety of products ranging from electrical and industrial products, to farm equipment and after-market automotive and boating products, in addition to aircraft and related components. This expansive product knowledge demonstrates the group's ability to swiftly and meticulously analyze and understand the technicalities of any complex product.

FMJ's attorneys have tried products liability cases both in Minnesota and throughout the country. Their expansive product knowledge and extensive experience means they are able to handle cases effectively, efficiently, and with their client's interests always at the forefront.

FMJ Professionals

Donald Chance Mark, Jr.
Patrick J. Rooney
Tyler P. Brimmer

With their expansive product knowledge and extensive experience, FMJ's Products Liability group is able to handle cases effectively, efficiently, and with their client's interests always at the forefront.