Brad Hutter is an Associate in FMJ's Litigation and Bankruptcy & Insolvency practice groups. He represents businesses in disputes involving breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, trade secret, and shareholder claims. He has also represented banks and other creditors in commercial litigation arising out of loan defaults or other insolvencies.

Brad prioritizes open communication in his relationships with clients. When guiding a client through litigation, he takes the time to ask the right questions and patiently listens to understand his client's perspective. Brad then translates his client's concerns into clear and credible legal arguments.

Prior to joining FMJ, Brad served as an Assistant Attorney General in the Minnesota Attorney General's Office, where he litigated cases in state and federal court involving health care and constitutional issues. He also tried administrative enforcement actions on behalf of his state agency client.
